

Tips for Researching Instruments and Equipment for your Health and Wellness Related Business

For the purpose of this task you will be researching instruments and equipment required for your health and wellness related business.

1) Plan ahead

Before you start researching, sit down and plan the big picture. Look at your proposed floor plan. Think of what you will need to start up your business from scratch. For example, you may need some basic office furniture, computers, examining tables, dental instruments, gym equipment etc.

2) Research

Start researching each item required in terms of benefits, features and costs. Paste in pictures to visualize your choices. Use the form below, adding lines as needed.

4) Implement

Using your proposed floor plan, decide where the equipment will be placed in the facility and sketch its location onto your plan. Explain your reasoning.
